MediaMarktSaturn parent company CECONOMY confirms CEO and CFO in office

Düsseldorf, 25 September 2025 – At its meeting today, the Supervisory Board of CECONOMY AG, the parent company of MediaMarktSaturn, confirmed Dr. Kai-Ulrich Deissner as Chief Executive Officer and Remko Rijnders as Chief Financial Officer of CECONOMY AG in their positions and at the same time reaffirmed its intention to continue working with both members of the Management Board within the proven structure. Both had previously held their positions on an interim basis.

Dr. Kai-Ulrich Deissner initially took over the management of the company on a temporary basis following Dr Karsten Wildberger's move to the German Federal Government as Minister for Digital and State Modernisation. Remko Rijnders succeeded him as interim CFO and took over the financial management of the Group. The Supervisory Board has now expressed its confidence in both executives for the future.

"Kai-Ulrich Deissner and Remko Rijnders have demonstrated exceptional leadership and strategic vision during a challenging but crucial phase. They provided important impulses and successfully navigated the company through this period. We are firmly convinced that, with their proven expertise, they will continue to lead the company successfully and sustainably into the future," emphasises Christoph Vilanek, Chairman of the Supervisory Board of CECONOMY AG.

CEO Dr. Kai-Ulrich Deissner: "I would like to thank the Supervisory Board for their confidence. Together with Remko Rijnders and our teams, we are consistently driving forward our transformation from a pure product retailer to an omnichannel service platform – with stability and growth as our top priorities. We are staying the course and continuing to live up to our uncompromising customer promise."
